

ITALIAN DESK

Legal advice with international DNA and a business-oriented approach

We combine the strength of a full-service, independent law firm based in Brazil with the cultural knowledge of our professionals.

Italy has been deeply present throughout Brazil's history in industry, services, and tourism. Our team assists investors by bridging the gap between different cultures, local requirements, and specific legislation.

Acting as a hub for Latin America, we assist our clients not only in starting their businesses in the region, but also advise Brazilian clients on entering the Italian market, utilizing local partners.

Our team is known for advising clients from a business-oriented, risk-based approach, helping them launch their new businesses and resolve any complex issues that may arise along the way.

Our partner responsible for this desk, Giovanni Falcetta, lives in Brazil and has a deep understanding of its culture. His focus is fostering collaboration opportunities with local clients and companies, especially related to foreign investment and transactional work, both of which are part of our DNA.
