

PORTUGUESE DESK

Your legal bridge between Brazil and Portugal for borderless business

The relationship between Brazil and Portugal goes beyond history and commercial significance: it has been a close relationship for over 500 years, still present today. With in-depth knowledge of the legislation and specificities of both countries, our Portuguese Desk is one of the most active among Brazilian firms.

The group is led by two partners: João Ribeiro da Costa, a Portuguese national with approximately 20 years of experience in Brazil, maintains constant contact with clients, offices, organizations, and governments in both countries; and Giovanni Paolo Falcetta, a Brazilian and one of those responsible for our relationship with Europe. They combine global expertise and local operations together to strengthen the Desk's three pillars:

1. Fostering business between Brazil and Portugal through strong partnerships;
2. Actively participating in networks and associations to identify opportunities;
3. Delivering high added value with local and international knowledge.

The Desk advises Portuguese and European companies interested in Brazil, as well as Brazilian companies expanding internationally. Our services cover sectors such as industry, energy, technology, food, education, finance, real estate, and tourism.
